Inland in location, but endowed by nature with products and supplies suitable for the industrial and densely populated nations of the world, the republic in recent years has turned greater attention to providing modern outlets - to the construction of railroads. Neighboring nations also appear to have recognized the fact that their own progress is closely linked with that of Bolivia, for practically all of them have built railroads to connect with those of the Bolivian republic. Argentina has constructed northward to the Bolivian border; two Chilean roads climb the Andes to Bolivia s frontier; a leading Peruvian road leads to the border lake, Titicaca; while Brazil has steadily pushed the iron rails from the Atlantic westward for hundreds of miles almost to Bolivia s eastern boundary, the Paraguay River....
