Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Wintergreen: A Tale of the Reconstruction It was in the town church of Rathness one fine Sunday morning in the August of 1919 that in the fiftieth year of her age, and in direct answer to prayer, the idea of becoming a domestic servant occurred to Miss Julia Glenferlie. It was the first idea she had ever originated, and when it appeared over the horizon of her mind it fairly took away her breath. She was short and stout altogether, giving an impression of strength and sturdiness both of mind and of body. Her own teeth and hair were still sufficient, and she had the complexion of a Ribston pippin. She was plainly but not unfashionably dressed in gray, with touches of brilliant green about her. Green was her color. Her mothers name had been Wintergreen, and it pleased her to wear green always in memory of her.
